Abstract

This essay argues that the state of Israel may have only 5 years of existence left, before it is wiped off the map by a democratically unified Arab Union, and unsupported by an increasingly pro Palestinian US. It also discusses the growing impact of YouTube videos against the Zionist occupation of Palestine, and the growing American anger against the American Jewish lobby AIPAC.

Glomedia and the US

The world is becoming increasingly globist and less nationalist as the years pass. The annual doubling speed of the internet is a major factor in this process. Another is the rise of international satellite television, which uses English increasingly as the world language. These phenomena are having a significant effect on the attitudes of ordinary Americans towards Israel.

The Jews in the US comprise about half of the world's Jewish population. They were highly filtered in entering the US in the first place, because prior to the Holocaust, the Jews were very unpopular in the US, so only the very brightest were allowed in. The average IQ of American Jews is 115, a full standard deviation above the white American average of 100. If one shifts up the IQ distribution Bell curve by 15 points, one expects that the proportion of geni in the US who are Jews will increase markedly. The Jews have won a third of the Nobel Prizes. They are the smartest cultural group on the planet. (If one looks at a world map of IQ distribution, one finds that the lowest group are the Australian aborigines with a 60 IQ average, then the black Africans at 70, the American natives, North Africans, and Indians at 85, the Europeans and Russians at 100, and the East Asians (Japanese, Chinese) at 105. Intelligence has one of the highest heritabilities, at about 60-80% according to separated identical twin studies.)

After the Holocaust (in which 6 million Jews were killed by the Nazis), the western countries felt rather guilty towards the Jews and supported the Jewish Zionists (who wanted their own country, and wanted that country to be in Palestine, their ancient homeland). The American Jewish community bribed Truman, the US president in 1948, $2M for his reelection campaign so that the US would vote in the UN for the establishment of the state of Israel in Palestine.

The Palestinians, who had been living in the area for 2000 years, since the Jews were defeated by the Romans in 70AD, and dispersed all over the world, were obviously not in agreement with this western dominated decision at the UN and went to war against the Jews, the Zionists, whom they saw as colonialists, thieves of Palestinian land. The Jews were a far better organized and developed culture, and with American aid, won all their wars against the Arabs, resulting in several million Palestinians becoming refugees, and earning the bitter hatred of the Arabs, who felt humiliated and vengeful.

Brainwashed Americans

In the US, the Jews congregated at the centers of power in Washington DC and New York, and with their superior intelligence, took hold of a large proportion of the reins of power in government and the media. With their media control, they brainwashed the American public to be pro Israeli and to look down on the Arabs who were painted as an anti democratic inferior people. The state of Israel was the only democracy in the region, and (according to the Jews and their supporters) should be supported as a powerful ally of the US. The Jews in government were spectacularly successful at persuading the US tax payer to support Israel, to the tune of about $3B a year in direct aid, plus another $10B or so in indirect trade deals etc. Whenever a war broke out between Israel and the Arabs, the Israelis would rush to the US to drum up financial and military support from the American Jews.

So, for 60+ years, a massive injustice against the Palestinian people has been committed by the Zionist Jews, a great festering sore that will not go away, until either the state of Israel is destroyed, or the Arabs come to some political agreement with the Zionists that creates a Palestinian state, and returns to the Palestinians their land.

Al Jazeera

How might this come about? The Arabs, thanks largely to the internet savvy young, are now finally in the process of democratizing. (This article was written in March 2011.) Let us assume in the next few years, that the major Arab oil states such as Saudi Arabia and Libya become democracies and modern technological states, who are able to create their own global satellite television stations, in English, and broadcast them to the world. The first major example of this was Al Jazeera, based in the tiny Arab state of Qatar, which has used its oil wealth to modernize its people and to create a counter force to the pro Israeli brainwashing of the American public by the Jewish dominated US media.

Al Jazeera started their English speaking world wide satellite and internet broadcasting service in 2007 and are having a significant impact around the world. In the US, the media is almost exclusively under the control of corporations, who maximize profits by selling advertising aimed at the IQ majority, i.e. the “peakers” (people of average IQ situated in the peak of the Bell curve). The content of the television shows dished up to the American TV viewing public is dumbed-down to appeal to the peaker majority. The intellectual minority (the “sages”) are ignored, who then don’t watch much television, and hence are poorly informed about the world compared to their European counterparts who are able to benefit from government run media who cater to both peakers and sages (and “subs”, i.e. people with IQs lower than the peakers.)

Al Jazeera is financed by one of the sheikhs of Qatar, who wants to get the Arab message out to the world, and has hired BBC style British journalists, operating to traditional high BBC journalistic standards to broadcast to the world, and especially to America’s sages. This is having a revolutionary effect on them. They are now getting the Arab and particularly the Palestinian view point, which is making America’s sages become a lot more conscious of the enormous injustice that the US and particularly America’s Jews have committed towards the Palestinians, robbing them of their land and causing several million of them to become refugees.

Pro Palestinian America

So, in the coming few years, I consider the following scenario will become very plausible. The American sages will become hostile to a Jewish dominated indoctrinating media and lash out against it. Their awareness of the massive crime and injustice committed by the Israelis against the Palestinians will be used to change US foreign policy towards Israel. America’s sages will take a much more positive attitude towards the Arabs, once they have become democracies, and especially towards those that have oil, particularly towards the newly democratic states of Saudi Arabia and Libya. Israel has no oil, so can be ignored, and the clamoring American Jewish Zionist lobbyists will be seen in an unfavorable light. The word Zionist will take on negative connotations, in the American public as American sages launch a counter offensive against the Jewish dominated media. Anti Semitism, which is strongly correlated to anti Zionism, will increase markedly. After all, the Jews are history’s most hated people. In Europe for example, the Brits threw them out, the French threw them out, the Spanish threw them out, the Poles hated them, the Russians pogrommed them, the Germans holocausted them. The “reservoir of western sympathy” towards the Jews as a result of the holocaust will dry up and the Jews will be treated as they have always been treated, i.e. with the same level of contempt that they have for other peoples. Zionism is essentially a “screw you Arab” philosophy, a “we Jews are going to take over your land”, colonialist ideology. The Jews are deeply racist. For example, it is illegal (i.e. against the law) in Israel for a non Jew to marry a Jew.

Once America’s sages become unsupportive, even hostile to the very existence of Israel, the US will withdraw its financial and military support. Once that happens, the Arab Union will then wipe Israel off the map in a quick war. The Israelis have the bomb, but if they use it against the Arabs, the world will become powerfully anti-Semitic overnight, and world opinion will force the Jews to give up their territory. Then the Jews will become refugees again, and a new round of Zionism will have to be invented. Perhaps the Jews will be able to buy up some land somewhere where the sellers agree to the bargain, rather than the Zionist Jews stealing it, colonizing it, the way they did to the Palestinians.

Maybe a piece of Australia might be sold to the Jews. If millions of them migrate to “Ausrael” their superior intelligence will create an economic trade boom with their Australian neighbors. Ausrael could become a member of the Asian Union when it is finally formed after the democratization of China and Vietnam, etc.

Postscript

I see two further aspects related to the increasing probability that Israel will need to move, i.e. that the Jewish population will probably have to pack up and leave.

One is the growing influence of YouTube videos on the Palestinian Occupation, and the other is the growing alarm of the American public concerning the corruptive power of corporations and AIPAC (the Jewish lobby in the US) on American politicians.

Lately, I’ve been watching videos on YouTube concerning the Jewish (Zionist) occupation of Palestine, and am becoming increasingly disgusted by what the Jews have done. In essence, putting it crudely, what Jewish Zionism, as a philosophy, boils down to is “Fuck you Palestinians, we Jews are going to steal your land and push you out of it.” This philosophy was explicitly stated in the original plan of the intellectual founder of Zionism (i.e. that the Jews should have their own country, and that that country should be in Palestine) namely Theodor Herzl who said over a century ago that the Jews would push the Palestinians outside the new borders of Israel. There were a million Palestinians living in Palestine a century ago, so it was not the case, according to the catchy Zionist slogan, “A land without people for a people without a land” that Palestine was sparsely populated.

Historically, it is clear that the Jews are the planet’s most hated people. As mentioned earlier, in Europe, the Spaniards threw them out, the Brits threw them out, the French threw them out, the Poles hated them, the Russians pogrommed them, the Germans holocausted them. The Jews make themselves hated wherever they go, and the German holocaust is not so exceptional in qualitative terms, but was so in quantitative terms, characteristic of German thoroughness and modern technology (Zyklon B gas).

(I’m currently reading up on an extraordinary claim by some, which if true, will change my view of the Nazi holocaust profoundly. The claim is that European Zionists approached the British government in the middle of WW1 (1916), when Britain was losing the war, and made a deal with them. The European Zionists claimed that they would have their Zionist Jewish friends in the US, who owned the newspapers etc, whip up an anti German frenzy to bring the US into the war and tip the balance in favor of the British/French. The deal was that the British who were the major colonizing power at the time, would give the Zionists the land of Palestine, so that the Zionists could fulfill their Zionist dream of giving the Jews finally, after 2000 years of Diaspora, their own precious homeland. In 1917, the Brits made their infamous “Balfour Declaration” stating that the British government was in favor of allowing Jews to settle in Palestine, and adding that the incumbents (i.e. the million Palestinians) were not to be disturbed. IF THIS IS TRUE, then no wonder the Germans hated the Jews. It meant that the Germans had to fight on for a further 2 years, killing millions of them. I need to follow this up. If readers know more about this, please send me data. This could be a bomb shell, if true. But if it is true, why doesn't the world know about it? I'm fascinated, but skeptical. )

(Back to the main topic -- ) The western "reservoir of sympathy" for the Jews as a result of the holocaust of WW2 is drying up. A new generation has no first hand memory of the holocaust and concentrates more today on the brutal behavior of the Jews towards the Palestinians and is becoming increasingly disgusted with the Jews for their callousness and arrogance.

But callousness and arrogance towards other peoples is probably the main reason why Jews are so hated worldwide. Some social group has to be the world's most hated people, and it's a fairly easy case to make that that group is the Jews. The more one informs oneself on what the Jews have done in Palestine, thanks to YouTube, Wikipedia, and documents readily downloadable from emule.com the greater is the anger I feel towards them – I and millions of others, including many American intellectuals who increasingly are "seeing Israel (as Chomsky famously puts it) as the next South Africa," i.e. the next apartheid regime to be brought down by world opinion. The tide is turning. Sympathy towards the Jews that was common place several decades ago in the west is turning increasingly towards disgust, and world opinion will be heard. Thanks to the internet, world opinion is turning against Israel, and in time will force American politicians to drop its support for Israel. Once that happens, Israel will not survive. It will go under.

But, and here lies the second problem, the Jewish lobby (AIPAC, American Israel Public Affairs Committee, aipac.org) is very strong in the US, and American politicians fear it. The average IQ of Jews in the US is 115, a full standard deviation above the mean of the whites in the US. Prior to the holocaust, Jews were as much disliked in the US as elsewhere and only the very smartest were allowed to migrate to the US. Thus US Jews were intellectually filtered. Once installed in the US they took up positions of power, due to their higher intelligence (the Jews have won a third of the Nobel Prizes) especially in the media (newspapers, movies, etc) to shape US public opinion and to influence powerful rich Jewish business men.

American politics is today so corrupt, so in need of reform, that AIPAC has a powerful lever to get US politicians to do what AIPAC (and hence the Zionist Jews, i.e. Israel) wants. The US political system is an old fashioned "presidential" system, where the people vote (more or less) directly for the president, rather than the more modern "parliamentary" system, that most of the world's 130 something democracies are. In a parliamentary democracy, the people vote for a given party. The winning party then selects its leader (i.e. selected only by the party politicians, who know something about the qualities needed to be a good leader, not just popular fools, as is too often the case in the US) who then becomes the leader of the country. In today's US, to be elected by the people directly, costs a fortune in TV ads, so the richest candidates tend to win. This old fashioned system is now terribly open to corruption, since large donors, e.g. corporations, are able to bribe politicians to get them to do what the bribers want, in return for their donations.

A substantial proportion of US political donations come from rich Jewish business men. For example, just before the UN (United Nations) voted for the partition of Palestine in 1947, into a piece for Palestine and a piece for Israel (thus robbing the Palestinians of about half of their land and their most fertile land), the Jewish community bribed President Truman $2M for his reelection campaign. The bargain was that Truman would vote in favor of a US dominated UN, accepting the creation of the Jewish state. The US then voted in favor of the creation of Israel.

So, as I see it, the Jewish lobby AIPAC, will remain powerful until the US public gets so fed up with its corrupt politicians that it puts enormous pressure on the US government to reform itself into a parliamentary system. Today's American political system is so corrupt, and so in the hands of the corporations, who pay for the advertising costs of politicians to get reelected, that the US government does what the corporations want and not what the people want. We now have a US population where the richest 1% is getting considerably richer, and the rest, are seeing their real purchasing power decrease over the past few decades. This cannot continue. Americans are becoming increasingly angry and informed about this corruption and are pushing with growing force for reform.

So, once the US changes its government to a parliamentary system, and comes into line with most of the world, then AIPAC will lose its influence. It will not be able to bribe US politicians to do what Israel wants. The current support of the US in favor of Israel has reached ludicrous proportions. Each year the US gives about half of its total world wide foreign aid to Israel (and Egypt), i.e. about $3B a year, plus other credits amounting to about $10B a year. Whenever a UN resolution comes up damning Israel, the US uses its veto in the UN Security Council to block its adoption by the UN. As world wide anger increases against the Israelis, so too is growing contempt of the world for the US in continuing the massive injustice that the Jews are committing against the Palestinians, trying (and succeeding) to destroy Palestinian culture, pushing 4 million of them out of their land. There have been 4 wars by the Palestinians/Arabs against Israel, and each time the Jews have won, largely due to the financial and military support of the US, i.e. from the US Jews and especially AIPAC. This makes Palestinians and Arabs in general hate both the Zionist Jews and the US for supporting them with such blatant bias.

So, in the coming years, thanks to Glomedia (global media, especially TV channels such as Aljazeera) and to the internet (especially to Wikipedia and YouTube videos on the Palestinian occupation) one can predict the rise of, the return of anti-Semitism. The Jews are simply continuing their age old habit of "pissing on other peoples" and making themselves hated. They have been doing this for decades with the Palestinians, and now are really starting to pay the price. The world is waking up and the tide is turning. American public opinion is turning against AIPAC, against US support for Israel. Americans are increasingly thinking "Drop Israel. Israel doesn't have any oil. The US should be friends with the Arabs, who have the oil, not apartheid mongering Jews." There would not have been a 9/11 if the US had not supported the Jews. Travelling through airports would be as easy as it was decades ago if it weren't for US support of the Jews."

So, simultaneous and growing anti-Semitic and anti corruption movements in the US should be making Israeli politicians very scared. Once the tide turns, and the US public sees Israel the way it finally saw South Africa, i.e. both as brutal, contemptible, apartheid regimes, then US support for Israel will dry up. Public US opinion will turn so strongly against US backing for Israel that even AIPAC corrupted US politicians will have to bow to the gale and drop their support for Israel.

If the US drops its old fashioned presidential democracy for a more modern, saner, parliamentary system, then AIPAC would disappear almost overnight. In Scandinavian countries for example, their politicians don't have to worry about campaign funding at all, since their political system does not require it. Their system is structured in such a way that campaign funds are not needed. America needs to have such a "money free" system. As Glomedia becomes stronger, Americans will be influenced by the way things are done outside the US. Americans will be able to learn from the superiorities of other countries.

Glomedia has already started. With the phenomena of BRAD (bit rate annual doubling), i.e. the speed of the internet doubles every year, it is already possible for me today to have apps on my iPad with literally 1000s of radio channels from all over the world. This world wide audience means that more radio station owners are choosing to transmit their programs in English to reach a world audience, to have a more global (literally) impact. TV is going the same way, but since a TV image requires a lot more bandwidth than a radio channel, today's iPad apps can only group together several 100 TV channels. But BRAD in time (and internet satellites) will allow TV channels in their 1000s to be received by cell phones all over the world. Within a decade, most of the world will have a cell phone, and most of the world will have access to the internet. Once all that happens, the world will be able increasingly, to express itself in a single language, the world language, English.

World opinion then will express itself across the world, and will be incredibly powerful, irresistible. The court of global public opinion will push aberrant regimes out of existence, including Israel, (and the straggling dictatorships, such as China.) Glomedia in time will wipe Israel off the map, if the Arabs don't do it militarily before that, once the US withdraws its support for Israel. The Israelis have the bomb, but don't dare us it, because if they do, overnight, the world will become rabidly anti-Semitic and will force Israel to move somewhere else, using an economic embargo. Israel cannot fight the world. If it tries to use nuclear bombs against the major powers pushing it out of Palestine, it will be vaporized by these major powers.

For all these reasons, I give the Israeli Zionists less than a decade of existence. The Palestinian occupation has been a major sore in world politics for too long. This problem needs to be solved so that the planet can become a more civilized place. The Zionists are not civilized. They are brutal, selfish, “fuck you Palestinians” colonists, and are increasingly hated by (increasingly better informed) world opinion.

You Jews who are reading this, need to do some heavy soul searching. You need to ask yourselves why you are so hated world wide, and by so many centuries. What are you doing to everyone, wherever you go, country after country, century after century, that makes people not just dislike you, but hate you enough to kill you, to pogrom you, to holocaust you. You can't deny global opinion. The 99.99...% of the world that is growing increasingly angry at Zionist injustice against the Palestinians cant be all wrong headed as seen by Zionist zealots. The power of global opinion in an era of Glomedia will be the undoing of Israel. Israel will have to give Palestinian land back to the people it stole it from, and start looking for a new Israel, but this time, it will have to have the agreement of the sellers of the land to the “New Zionists.” But such sellers may be difficult to find, since world opinion against the Zionists, against the Jews, will be negative.

But the Jews need a country. Most people accept the first main idea of the Zionists (i.e. that the Jews should have their own country.) Sooner or later, the UN, or Globa (the global state) should organize a state for the Israelis. It won't be in Palestine, since that land was stolen, by force of arms, from the Palestinians. It will have to be somewhere else. The planet is large, and housing a mere 6 million Israelis should not be so hard.

At the exponential rate that humanity is pumping CO2 into the atmosphere, global warming will open up the southern fringes of Greenland, north Canada and north Russia - huge land masses - to human habitation, so maybe the Zionists can move there fairly soon. The cold temperatures will suit their cold hearts. Wherever the Zionists end up, one thing is for sure, the current brutal displacement of the Palestinians by the Jews cannot continue. World opinion is getting fed up with it. Israel will be South Africanized.
